"I live to live a life of life." Tomorrow holds new thoughts, new feelings, and new experiences. Each day is a stepping stone to the future, providing new concepts and new ideas for tomorrow. The beginning of one such day is a typical day at South Salem High School. The day begins with the arrival of students, the greeting of friends, and a visit to the locker. The bell rings and the academic day begins, with time out occasionally for various student activities. Noon dances, student assemblies, and numerous athletic events are all an important part of school life. The victories and the defeats, whether in academics or athletics, are all part of the memories that remain when the year is over. From all of this comes the anticipated moment of Graduation—not the end, but the beginning of tomorrow.

New student advisory committee created

Two major A.S.B. endeavors were a part of the program for the 1967-68 school year. At mid-year a five member Student Advisory Committee was appointed by President Gary Edmonds; and in May, a four-member team represented South on the KGW Hi-Q program.

The Advisory Committee was chosen to work with administrators on student problems. Three students of each class were selected. From the senior class were Harold Hutchinson, Jim Jones, and Andy Embick. Juniors were Lance Cooley, Dave Leslie, and Sue Zetterberg. Russ Roth, Mary Engleson, and Laury Lee were chosen from the sophomore class.

The Hi-Q team consisted of two juniors Ann Bartsch and John Tillman, and two seniors Kristy Russom and Don Shields, selected by a timed qualifying test against 18 other volunteers. Kim Seymour was alternate. They competed against Central High May 19 and Hillsboro High May 26. The squad defeated Central with a score of 250-180, and lost to Hillsboro 175-185.

Three members of the Student Advisory Committee were senior, Jim Jones, chairman; junior Sue Zetterberg; and senior Andy Embick.

Participants of 1967-68 Hi-Q team were John Tillman, Ann Bartsch, Kristy Russom, and Don Shields. Standing are Coach Richard Mossman and alternate Kim Seymour.

Quill and Scroll sponsors "Bowl"

Quill and Scroll is a National Journalism honor Society which gives recognition to staff members of both the Newspaper and Yearbook. To qualify for membership, a student must achieve a 3.0 grade point and must have served the publication on which he worked in some outstanding way. The Saxon chapter sponsors the annual High School Bowl. The first competition this year was held February 9, 1968 between the Sophomores and Juniors; and the second on February 14 between the Juniors and Seniors. The Juniors were the victors in both meets.

First Semester initiation of new officers was held at the Colonial House November 7, and a Bar-B-Q at the home of Barbie Norris was held in the Spring for the election of 1968-69 officers, and to initiate new members selected for the second semester.

Debaters take national award

Selected as one of twenty-five chapters in the U.S. in 1967 to receive the National Forensic League award for excellence and achievement, the South Salem Speech and Debate Squad captured a total of twenty-three awards and trophies during the year.

The national award, presented by Mr. Burns Jacobs, N.F.L. official, represents a thirteen-year effort on the part of Saxon speakers. In this time, Saxons have been in nearly 5,000 debates, accumulating more than 30,000 points. The fact that every student who has participated in debates is responsible for the award was emphasized by speech coach Miss Amanda Anderson.

At the Dallas Speech Meet on Nov. 18, seven Saxons placed in final competition. The team participated in numerous other contests, including Knights of Pythias, American Legion, International Order of Odd Fellows, and Voice of Democracy. The speechsters also excelled in the three-day February Lin field College tournament, where as a whole, Saxons finished fourth.

Following were the Tournament of Peers, April 26-27 at Pacific University; and the Reynolds High School Interpretation Tournament held May 4; Saxons reached finals in both.

Contributing consistently to South's successful season were John Collins, Alice Likowski, Jim Collins, John Tillman, Lance Colley, Jan Gardener, Andy Tillman, Ross Quackenbush, Sue Zetterberg, Terry Troth, and Todd Neary. John Tillman captured first place in state impromptu speaking. John and Jim Collins also reached the finals in extemporaneous speaking at the state meet, April 19.

Other participations by the South Squad include the Men's Optimist Tourney. N.F.L. Tournament, the State Tournament, and a Corvallis High School contest.

In the first game of the season the Saxon football team met cross-town rival, North Salem, on the Vik field and dealt them their first loss of the year.

By combining a stiff running-passing attack with a stout defense the Sax racked up a 38-7 win. Greg Specht scored on a 33 yard pass from Gary Edmonds; Harold Noble tallied 3 on field goals; John Koch scored twice, on a 33 yard carry and a 1 yard plunge; Bruce Dunn scored from the 4 yard line; Harold Noble caught a 54 yard pass from Gary Edmonds to bring the score to 33; and Noble scored a total of 5 P.A.T.'s.

In their second clash, South dumped North again 48-0. Combining 2 runs by John Koch, one by Bruce Dunn, one by Gary Johnson, with the P.A.T.'s good, and 3 passes to Craig Price, Mike Dewey and John Newell (respectively) gave South another in the mounting series of victories over North Salem.

After beating Corvallis 13-7, the Saxon football team met Sweet Home in the second district clash of the season and trounced the helpless Huskies 25-0. South's scores came when Bruce Dunn smashed through from the one; John Koch got an 8 yard bullet pass from Gary Edmonds for the score; Greg Specht caught two passes from Gary Edmonds both good for tallies; and Harold Noble completing 1 P.A.T.

The Saxon gridmen, continuing in their mounting series of victories, walked over McNary 25-0 and then met Lebanon on our field in the fourth district game of the season. The first score of the game came when John Koch muscled through the line with 2:44 left in the first stanza. Greg Spect scored the second touchdown in the second quarter when he made a leaping catch in the end zone. The third score of the game came when Mike Dewey caught a 23 yard pass from Gary Edmonds, with Harold Noble completing all three P.A.T.'s. Mike Dewey contributed 55 yards to total yardage.

The next game, against Albany on the Bulldogs home field was the Saxons' hard luck game when the fired up Albany team handed them a 12-0 trouncing. The next game the Saxons played was in Portland against Centennial High. The South Salem club completely ran away with the game and beat Centennial 46-0.

Harold Noble completed only one P.A.T. making the final score 13-6.

Saxons earn many honors, in fine season

The 1967 South High Football team garnered many honors after narrowly missing a final playoff berth.

Three Saxons earned recognition by being elected to the All-State football team. Greg Specht, split end, placed on first team; Mike Mink, tackle, in the fifth team; Gary Edmonds, quarterback, received honorable mention. These three Saxons also gained positions on the state Shrine Football team. Six other Saxons—Craig Price, halfback; John Koch, halfback; Bruce Dunn, fullback; Robert Watson, end; Steve Jenning, guard; and Dennis Hilesland, center—were chosen Shrine Team alternates. All-district ratings went to Craig Price, flanker; Steve Hanson, defensive back; Bruce Dunn, fullback; Dennis Hilesland, center; John Koch, halfback; Mike Mink, tackle; Greg Specht, split end; Gary Edmonds, quarterback; Robert Watson, tight-end; Craig Richards, tackle; Stan Boatman, guard; Steve Jenning, guard; Dave Hicks, defensive back.

J.V. Gridders end season with 6-3 record

The 1967 Saxon J.V. Football team, coached by Gary Ritchie, Val Barnes, and John Erickson, began their nine-game season with a tie against North Salem. They then went on to beat Newport 32-7, and Corvallis 26-13. The team lost only two games during the season, one to Sweet Home, 19-0, and the other to McNary 7-0. The squad then began a four-game winning streak beating Lebanon 33-26, Albany 14-7, Sunset 20-0, and North Salem 19-7.

During the season the team rounded up 75 first downs. They gained 925 yards rushing on 264 carries. Passing 101 times, they completed 40 passes for 405 yards. The punters picked up 948 yards on 33 kicks. In the scoring department the squad racked up 144 points and gave up 86 to their opponents. The high-spirited team lost only 293 yards on penalties.

McNary, Corvallis deal J.V.'s only losses

Highlighting the 1967 Cross Country season, Coach Don DeClerck's Rebels traveled to Vancouver, Washington, for the Hudson Bay Invitational Tournament. While the Junior Varsity placed fourth out of nine teams, the Varsity harriers came in fourth in a twelve-team competition.

South participated in two other invitational tournaments as well: the Wilson Invitational in Portland on Oct. 4, with the Varsity placing fourth, the J.V.'s finishing second in the junior division; and the North Marion Invitational, where the local leatherlungers captured fifth place in both Varsity and Junior Varsity.

In district competition the Varsity thinclads fell to McNary, Lebanon, and Corvallis, but triumphed over North Salem and Albany to end the season in fourth place in the Valley district. But the Junior Varsity defeated North Salem, Lebanon, and Albany; losing only to McNary and Corvallis.

Running the two-mile course at Bush's Park in the All-City meet, the Church Street squad finished second with 31 points while McNary won with 26, and North fell into last place with 65 points.

In the Valley district meet held Oct. 27 in Corvallis, the Varsity followed through to place fourth in the six-team competition while the Junior Varsity bettered their previous record of 3-2 to finish first in the local league.

The only Saxon to qualify for the state meet, held at Willamette University on November 4, was Varsityman Doug Steinke, finishing twenty-second in a field of 180 runners coming from all parts of Oregon. Steinke, a consistent performer on the team, was strongly backed up by Cross Countrymen Steve Davidson, Neil Jacox, Mike Marsh, Larry Eberth, and Lon Waln, filling the top spots in the meets. Leading the Junior Varsity to a successful season were Bob Walen and Jim Stuller.

First-year mentor Don DeClerck has provided the guidance and encouragement needed for a winning team, and the outlook is good for next year, with six returning lettermen.

Local Cagers

In a year in which his hardwood men could muster no more than two wins in succession, Coach Dick Ballantyne and his basketball crew concluded the 1967-68 season with an unimpressive 10-12 record.

The final standings are misleading in light of the Saxons' fifth place finish in the seven-team Valley District race. When the squad concluded the season, they were sailing with a two-game win streak.

Carrying the load for South in the scoring column were forward Steve Hansen and guard Lonnie Waln. Playing in 21 of the 22 contests, Hansen scored 100 field goals, and was the top scorer with the largest points-per-game average.

Waln pumped in 84 goals during the season with the largest number of attempted shots, and was followed in goals by Jerry Groff, Dave Hicks, Craig Price, and Ross Quackenbush in the official score book kept by Varsity statistician Paul Wulf.

The fortunes of basketball were shining on the Rebels when they upset North Eugene in the season opener. The Highlanders were defeated 37-55. Steve Hansen poured in sixteen points the following outing against the Axemen of South Eugene, but the locals dropped the Dec. 8 contest by a six-point margin.

Ahead of their contenders all the way, the dribblers snowed Sheldon 77-64 in one of the better showings of the season on Dec. 15. Again Hansen led the sharpshooters with sixteen points.

Jerry Groff, Dave Hicks, and Steve Hansen finally managed to pull the squad together to squeeze past Churchill 54-53 to finish with a pre-league record of 3-1.

In the league competition, the Church Streeters split the play in both the first and third rounds but could manage to defeat only Lebanon for one win in the second round of district play. With a total of seven district victories and three pre-league wins, the squad ended the season with an overall record of ten wins and twelve losses.

The McNary Celtics, who later took the state championship in a surprising victory, were the only cagers not to fall to the Ballantyne machine at least once.

To open their 21-game hoop season, the 1967-68 Junior Varsity basketball team coached by Val Barnes, lost two of the four early out-of-district games. One to North Eugene and the other to South Eugene. The next two games, also out-of-district, found the squad playing Sheldon and Churchill. The squad won both games.

Throughout the season the team attempted 1302 shots and made 300 to make 1362 total points, their opponents attempted 1237, made 451 for 1155 total points.

The sophomore team, coached by Gary Ritchis, won six of the 18 games played. The team attempted 1026 shots and made 359 to make 996 total points. Their opponents attempted 1023, made 416 for 1099 total points. Both J.V. and Sophomore teams were high-spirited and fought hard to win.

Varsity wrestlers complete

Saxon matmen, for the first time in the school's history ended the season with a winning record. Bettering last year's 6-6-1 finish, the Varsity wrestlers completed the three-month winter season with seven wins and six losses.

Boosting spirit, the team began the season with a four-game winning streak, defeating South Eugene 33-14, Wilson 26-25, Sheldon 45-5, and Dallas 38-8. Sweet Home, conquered by South only once in the past fourteen years, dealt Coach Bob Strickland's men their first blow in the form of a 28-21 defeat.

The locals, however, soon picked up two more wins—over Churchill 36-10, and North Salem 24-22, boosting the total to six wins. The seventh came by crushing McMinnville 45-11. Ending the season with a long line of losses, the Saxons fell to Valley league teams Lebanon 33-14, McNary 30-17, Corvallis 45-3, and Albany 29-17, as well as to Silverton 38-9.

Participating in the Cleveland "Four-Way" with Lake Oswego, Franklin, and Cleveland High Schools, the team placed a low fourth while matmen Dennis Hillesland at 191 lbs. and Steve Noble in the 136 lb. class were undefeated champions at the tournament.

Team captain Steve Noble later placed second in his division at the district meet, and thus went on to the state meet in Corvallis on Feb. 23-24. The two top men in each division on the team represented South at the district meet, held Feb. 16-17 at McNary. The two top district men in each division are then qualified to attend the state meet.

Noble, the only Saxon to travel to the state contest, was backed up by lettermen Gerry Moore at 198 lbs., Steve Berkey (106), Dan Miner (106), Jim Capwell (115), Bob Catalini (123), Dave Chinberg (130), Tim Groffrier (141), Monte Griffith (148), Jerry Fuchs (168), and Mike Tarnasky in the 178-lb. class. Coaches John Horn and Bob Strickland stated that the outlook is good for next year, with 27 out of this year's team of 33 returning.

Baseball nine finish with 6-6 record

Coach Robert Strickland watches play in the last inning.

Splitting the Valley district season 6-6, South's Varsity Baseballers, coached by Bob Strickland, ended in the unimpressive position of tie for fourth place in the seven-team race.

March 29 saw the Saxons vs. McMinnville at Gilmore Field, defeating them 3-1. In the first district game, April 2 against Lebanon, South came up with another win, 4-2. An April 5 loss to Stayton set the team back a notch, however. Splitting a double-header April 6, South fell to Hillsboro 5-3, but came back in the second game for a 7-1 victory.

Two district wins of 2-0 over Albany and 5-3 over McNary boosted team spirit. But then Lebanon tripped up the locals in a stumbling 9-4 loss. In a second double-header with Hillsboro, the Saxons wound up on the wrong end of both games, losing 4-3 and 4-0.

Beating Sweet Home 5-4 on May 14 ended district wins, which totaled six. Finishing the slow season on a sour note, the Saxons fell to the North Salem Vikings 5-0 on May 17, on the North field.

Saxon hitting power was provided for the most part by sophomore Phil Schradel. The hard-hitting youngster knocked out 14 hits at 37 times at bat for a 378 average. Backing him up were John Koch, with a 200 batting average; Mike Dewey, 175; Bruce Dunn, 273; and Jerry Houck, 231. Although Jerry Fuchs was at bat 22 times, he managed to come up with only two hits.

Juniors go from under to upper classmen

Among the many activities the 1967-68 Junior Class was involved in throughout the year was the U.G.N. Drive in which they realized a total of $320. In February many members of the class took P.S.A.T. tests and National Merit Scholarship tests. Both tests were in preparation for the Senior year and higher education. The Junior class team was triumphant over the sophomore and senior class teams in the Annual High School Bowl on February 9 and 14. The main event of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom held May 18, sponsored by the class. Barb Price was chairman.

Elisa spends year with the Nunn family

This year South's American Field Service student, Elisa Caramello is from Turin Italy. While staying in Salem, she is living with the Jess A. Nunn family. Elisa is an only child in Italy, but here she has two sisters, Jan and Carol, and one brother, Murry. She says that she enjoys having sisters and a brother. Elisa applied for A.F.S. because she had heard much about it from students at home and she thought that this might be her way of promoting peace. In Italy, Elisa's sport is swimming, but here she has become an excellent skier and has spent many hours on the slopes. Her school at home is small so getting accustomed to the largeness of South took time. Elisa's activities this year have been speaking for various organizations and visiting different schools. Before leaving for home, Elisa toured the U.S. with a group of A.F.S. students.

A.F.S. dinner a success

On Tuesday, April 23, a fund raising dinner was held in the south cafeteria for the American Field Service. Ten A.F.S. students from various countries living in the areas near Salem were invited to speak. The hostess of each table decorated it with articles she had collected from a foreign country. Two thousand dollars was raised by collections after the dinner to help defray expenses of the A.F.S. program.

The Rodallecs, a family in St. Michel, Hosted Bonnie Watts for two months while she was in France during the summer of 1967. Bonnie went overseas with Youth for Understanding because she wanted to become acquainted with a foreign family and to learn the language and the customs of the country. She liked seeing Paris and Versailles the most although she found the contrast between the old and the new in France very interesting. Bonnie says that the people of the rural areas were very friendly toward the Americans but the city dwellers were not so friendly.

Regenstauf, Germany was the summer home of Mary Steinfield during the summer of 1967. Mary applied for American Field Service because she wanted to meet the people and enjoy herself. She found the people very friendly although she found it difficult to understand them as they spoke German so fast. Trying to live as the Germans live was her goal for the two months that she was there. Mary stayed with the Malemeyers and had two sisters to travel with.
